Quinn, 70, died suddenly Sunday evening at his home 16 Maple avenue. Medical Examiner Dr. Louis J. Mason, pronounced death due to heart trouble. Mr. Quinn enlisted in Company K, 11th Connecticut Volunteers during the Civil war and at its conclusion took part in the warfare against the Indians along the frontier in the regular army. When war was declared against Spain he enlisted and was in Company E, 2nd Connecticut Volunteers. At the outbreak of the World war he was again called to the service but was refused on account of his age. Mr. Quinn belonged to Francis S. Long Street No. 20, Q. & A. R. He was a painter and had been employed for over 20 years by the American Thread company. He was born in Canada, April 21, 1852. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Belle (Quinn) Quinn, a niece, Mrs. Jennie Campbell of Providence and three nephews, James, Arthur and John McQuillan of this city.

In the police court Monday morning, "Jack" O'Connell, charged with reckless driving as a result of the accident in which Thomas P. Shea was injured, and is now a patient in St. Joseph's hospital, pleaded not guilty after expressing his regret for the accident. His case was continued for two weeks awaiting the outcome of Shea's injuries. Bonds of $200 were fixed which were furnished by the accused's father-in-law, Abraham Yuch.

Joseph O'Barra, charged with assault on Henry Decker, alleged to have been committed Saturday of last week, had his case continued until this (Tuesday) morning under a cash bond of $50 furnished by the accused, so that witnesses could be secured for the state. Similar action was taken in the case of Salvatore Patale charged with assault on his father and mother-in-law, Giuseppe and Mary Cammello, No. 22 Winter street. Patale was arrested Saturday. The bond of $100 was continued.

Joe Yachback, charged with reckless driving of a motor vehicle, Saturday evening around the curve at Ash street, pleaded guilty. It developed that Yachback was running his sick boy this doctor. Judge Foss imposed a fine of $25 and costs but remitted the fine, due to the circumstances. The costs of $7.15 were paid by Yachback.

Mrs. Angelina Loring Avery, of 45 High street, celebrated her 12th birthday Sunday and is the youngest living child of her mother, the late Mrs. Loring. There is one other real daughter of the Revolution in Connecticut, Mrs. Sarah Bouda, north Broadway, 104 years old, of Danbury, whom Mrs. Avery called on last year. In 1780, when recruits were badly needed, Solomon Loring, of Hingham, Mass., a boy of fourteen, enlisted in the Continental army. He served as aide to Colonel Voss who was stationed on the Hudson and thus took part in several skirmishes. When over sixty-three years old he married Angelina Sawyer for his third wife, she died the day of the birth of little Angelina. Solomon Loring died in 1842. His daughter, Angelina, though but two years and 7 months old at that time, retains a distinct memory of her father. About the beginning of the last century he came to Lebanon and built a house on the northern slope of the hills overlooking Windham and the valleys of the Willimantic and Natchaug rivers.

Mrs. Angelina Loring married Philip B. Avery, July 1, 1856. Four children have been born to them, only two of whom are living, Allen J. Avery of Manchester and Fred L. Avery of Windham. Mrs. Avery did not, however, inherit all her patriotism from her father alone. As a child, she served for most of the eight years struggle for freedom. One of Mrs. Avery's treasures is the hymn book which he was using while leading a choir at the Congregational church in Windham on a Sunday morning in September, 1777. During the service he heard the drum beating "To Arms" and in two hours he had started on the long march to Saratoga. As a child, Mrs. Avery's grave and tombstone, also those of her wife and two children can be seen in Windham cemetery. Mrs. Avery has many beautiful memories of her father. She recalled his birthday many gifts from friends and greetings from various D. A. R. chapters in Connecticut.

The funeral of Mrs. Susella Ludvigson, who died Monday morning, was held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the lawn of the home of Miss Burnham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Burnham of Windham. The burial place was from the home to an arch of green and black-eyed Susans as the bride, chorus from Lohengrin was played by Miss Dorothy Kelley of Meriden, pianist and Harriet Burnham, brother of the bride, on the violin. They were met by Rev. A. Avery, pastor of Windham Congregational church who performed the ceremony. The double ring service was used. Forty guests were present. The bride wore a dainty gown of white organza. Her silk and tulle train was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Burnham, sister of the bride, wore pink organza and carried sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore Miss Carrie Bailey of Danbury and Miss Beatrice Burnham sister of the bride. They were attended in white organza and carried bouquets of roses. The best man was Harold Barrett of Hartford. A reception was held following the ceremony and luncheon was served in the lawn. The bride received many handsome gifts. After a honeymoon trip they will reside in Danbury where the groom is in business. The bride is a graduate of the Art school of the Norwich Free Academy, and for some time has been employed by the Aetna Life Insurance Co. in Hartford.

A pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Harry B. Harrington on Windham road Saturday night, the date being Mr. Harrington's birthday. Games, instrumental music, singing and dancing were enjoyed. Refreshments were served. Mr. Harrington received many handsome gifts. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Anna Brant and Mrs. E. J. Harrington of Willimantic, Mrs. Agnes Russell and Grover Swan of South Windham, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney and Mrs. Susan J. Harrington of Windham Center and Philip and Wilfred Beaulieu, of South Coventry, Mr. and Mrs. Beal of South Chatham, and Mr. and Mrs. Whitman of Trion, N. Y.

Feeling Fit as a Fiddle!

Success in Life Often Times Depends Upon Starting the Day Right

To bounce out of bed feeling fresh as a daisy, to greet the lithe one prancing before you with a happy laugh, to get him up with a firm, steady hand, and actually dance with the very best of living! Then plunge into your morning tub, if that's your method, with a smile on your lips and a song in your heart. Come with firm step to the breakfast table, eager for its wholesome fare.

And you spread joy in your household and go forth into the world "fit to fight," equipped with that most powerful of all weapons, great good health. For health is surely yours, and YOU do not need Tanlac.

But how different if you arise unrefreshed, aching to get the morning started by the healthy laughter of a household. The long day ahead will seem to you an eternity, promising nothing but misery, and you just have to mope all day with a heavy heart, with little energy remaining to you, to draw yourself up, dress and take your place (alternately, discouraged, with a gloom enshrouding you and your whole family circle, and you go out to the best of your already hopelessly beaten.

What is the matter? Why are you all tired out in the morning? The answer is simply that their systems are clogged and their blood poisoned from the waste substances that have been stored up because the digestive and eliminative organs have not performed their proper functions. And the reason for all this is that too much highly eaten food has been piled into the stomach.

When you feel yourself getting up in the morning under a great weight, exhausted, look for the symptoms of stomach trouble, such as dizziness, nervousness, bad taste in the mouth and biliousness. You may be constipated, too, and your liver sluggish.

Mrs. Hall was bruised about her head and body and the other occupants escaped with slight injuries.

The three injured people were taken to Johnson Memorial hospital where it is said that all will recover, although Mrs. Maynard will be laid up for some time.

Mr. Hall was arrested by State Police man Young and ordered to appear in court Monday morning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of reckless driving. His case was continued to July 25th.

The case of the state against John Potter of Glasgow, charged with violation of the liquor law, was argued by Prosecuting Attorney H. A. Burnham before Judge A. M. Brown in the town court Monday morning. The accused was tried on three counts—violation of the liquor law, and owning and keeping with intent to sell and exchange in violation of the law. The accused, whose attorney was Thomas J. Shellen of Norwich, pleaded not guilty to all three charges. A dozen witnesses were examined and Potter was found guilty on all three charges. He was fined $100 on the first, $100 on the second and $100 on the third, amounting to $300, and costs, which are considerable. He appealed and Daniel F. Finn went his bond for $200.

The civil case as to the disposition of the 120 barrels of cider will be heard next Monday morning. A jury of six, whose names will be drawn from the jury box in the town clerk's office, will be called for the civil case.

Two other cases were tried. One Silver, a resident of Griswold, living on the P. F. Holmes place, was present in the town court Monday morning by Deputy Game Warden Powell of North Stonington and fined $1 and costs for leaving his fish pole in the water with bait attached. Judge Brown characterized his offense as merely a technical infraction of the law and imposed the minimum fine and actual costs, amounting to $17.

Abram J. Berman of Worcester was tried for an overloaded truck, M. R. Kall of the state police having arrested him. He was represented by John T. Barry. He was fined $100 and costs and appealed. Bonds for $200 were furnished by Abram Levine of Norwich.

or torpid. Unusual skin pallor, loss of appetite and indigestion, or a sharp, aching, aching nature's warnings, and you must look to your digestive system or be in danger of drifting into some serious disease.

The natural action of Tanlac on the digestive, secretory, assimilative and eliminative organs is the certain safeguard to your health, you are never failing for of that awful tired feeling when you get out of bed in the morning. Tanlac has proved to be the best and safest tonic and system purifier, stimulating the digestive system to its proper functioning, so the blood is able to take up fresh building material and so vitalized as to be able to absorb thoroughly eliminate the waste products which make you feel all tired out.

The cells of all parts of the body then receive real healthy nourishment, the shriveled tissues are filled out, the skin regains its glowing texture and the bloom of health. The eyes clear and with the strong and normal digestion the whole system is built up to the point where your hours of sleep are truly refreshing. And you get up in the morning feeling "fit as a fiddle."

It seems the sheerest folly for anyone to feel all tired out in the morning when Tanlac affords the best and most natural means of keeping in good trim or bringing the system back to its full and normal powers. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.
